

“Agriculture; the only honest way, wherein man receives a real increase of the seed thrown into the ground, in a kind of continual miracle.”

Norman Borlaug

